Authentic, Durable, Beautiful, Safe

Old Fashioned Milk Paint is the faithful recreation of an ancient homemade paint formula, containing just milk protein (casein), lime and natural earth or mineral pigments, making it environmentally friendly, non-toxic, VOC-free, baby-safe, food-safe & biodegradable.

Beloved of woodworkers, furniture restorers, interior designers, artists and upcyclers, it is used as an authentic period finish in the restoration or reproduction of furniture or other wood projects, to achieve vintage colour in a flat, chalky finish, quite unlike any other paint.

When applied to a porous surface such as wood, driftwood or plaster, milk paint provides a breathable coating that will never chip or peel – it is the most durable paint available. With our Extra Bond Agent you can use Milk Paint on non-porous surfaces too, such as previously painted or varnished furniture. Without the Extra Bond, Milk Paint will resist some pre-finished or pre-painted surfaces, which is sometimes desired to achieve an authentically distressed or “chippy” look.

Old Fashioned Milk Paint arrives in powder form to be mixed with water. There are thirty two historic base colours, but many more can be easily achieved, by mixing the powders together or lightening with Snow White.

Home-made Milk Paint was heavily used by settlers in North America, and has come to epitomise the character and style of Early American and Colonial furniture and buildings. The texture and deep, rich colours of Old Fashioned Milk Paint were recreated from pieces of furniture found in museums like Boston's Museum of Fine Arts, New York's Metropolitan Museum and restored Shaker villages such as Old Sturbridge, using only natural earth pigments such as ochre, umber and iron oxide.

Farmhouse Finishes

Farmhouse Finishes Milk Paint for Walls & Interiors

Farmhouse Finishes is a milk paint formulated for use on walls and interiors. Our original formula was created for porous surfaces like wood and masonry. Farmhouse Finishes is formulated for use on previously painted walls, prior finished wood, metal and other non-porous surfaces without the addition of bonding agent.

Available in the same 32 beautiful colours and three sizes, Farmhouse Finishes still has the flat finish, but is much more uniform and consistent over a large area than our original formula, and is also washable once cured, as well as being anti-bacterial and naturally mould resistant.

And just like original milk paint, Farmhouse Finishes is made from elements that pre-date the use of petrochemicals and other toxic bases and solvents, so it is biodegradable, non-toxic, and odour-free when dry, making it ideal for use in nurseries, children's bedrooms and for those who are chemically sensitive.
