

Vermont Lavender, LLC ©

Whipped Coffee Body Butter Recipe Vanilla Espresso Scent

Author: Adapted from Soap Queen with modifications by Vermont Lavender, LLC

Cook time: 20 mins. Total time: 20 mins. Serves: Eight 4 oz jars

This is thick, creamy and luxurious body butter is perfect for the winter season or dry climate areas where moisture is always needed. A moisturizers that nourishes the skin with real coffee seed oil.

Ingredients:

10 oz Coffee Butter

6 oz Shea butter

1 oz Rice Bran Oil

0.5 oz Tamanu Oil

6 ml Vanilla Select Fragrance Oil

4 ml Espresso Fragrance Oil

1 ½ tsp. Tapioca Powder

8 4 oz double walled jars plus lids

8 Safety sealed disks (optional)

Instructions:

1. Whip the Coffee Butter on a low speed using a handheld or stand mixer for 30 seconds to 1 minute to lighten up the texture.
2. Slowly melt the Shea Butter in a glass or heat safe container in the microwave at 10 second burst. Stir between bursts. Do not overheat. Or melt using a double boiler on the stove.
3. Add the Rice Bran Oil, Tamanu Oil, Vanilla Select and Espresso fragrance oils. Continue to whip the mixture on low until all of the oils are fully incorporated. Increase the speed of the mixer and whip until the butter has taken on a light and fluffy texture.
4. Slowly add the tapioca powder and stir with a spoon to prevent a powder cloud and then with the mixer until fully blended.
5. Using a spoon or spatula, scoop the whipped butter into the 4 oz. double walled jars (tap the jars on your work surface to pack the butter in there) and add a disk cover. Secure the lids.
6. If you are making this for sale, apply good manufacturing practices and label requirements. Vermont Lavender LLC is not responsible for the product and recipe testing to ensure compatibility and safety.

If you prefer to use single walled or clear 4 oz jars these are fine. We use the double walled jars because we ship throughout the United States to warmer climates from Vermont.