As the charge provided by the Clipray is a pass-through from the hand-crank generator, other smart-phone units may also charge with a steady handle turn speed of 1-2 times per second.

Please note that phones must have minimal power to utilize the Clipray for emergency power generation. Phones that have completely powered down due to loss of power cannot meet the initiation charge requirement to be able to re-charge/re-start with the Clipray.

For best results use a manufacturer approved USB charging cable for your phone.
