SpoilMe

About Us

HELLO.

At Spoil Me we believe the art of giving connects people, makes memories and transforms relationships.

This is what drives us to create truly meaningful gift boxes for modern giving.

Our passion for quality products, fine details and an authentic approach created the foundation for Spoil Me.

Our mission is to create exceptional gifts you would love and your recipient will always remember.

This year we are taking things to the next level, with our experience in corporate gifting we set the standard in elevated and meaningful gifts.

Jess & Shaun

Why partner with us

This year, Spoil Me are taking things to the next level. With 5 years of industry experience in the corporate gifting world, we've set the standard for elevated and impactful gifting.

At Spoil Me we pride ourselves on creating long lasting luxury gifts that will boost positive referrals about you and your business.

We are specialise in the business to business gifting industry. We understand the importance of standing out amongst your competitors and so when creating a custom gift, we make sure it is personal to you and your brand and clientele.

With optional branding there is no reason why you can't make a custom luxury corporate gift exclusive to your business, all while making your customers feel highly valued.

How we're doing it

Exciting new finds from our best-selling suppliers along with some new brand partners to keep everything fresh

- Additional streamlined customisation offerings and early bird xmas specials
- Offering NZ'S largest build a box product options to create exclusive gift boxes
- We review each gift to make sure that it meets our standards of elevated luxury
- · Fast delivery nationwide
- Flexibility to make any gift box in our range to have that seasonal or Christmas look and feel with our new Christmas wrap and ribbon options
- The human factor, providing curation expertise, hands on account management, and hand packed fulfilment.

Gifting has the capability to ignite a positive conversation, which provides an ideal opportunity for your clients to share their experience and further recommend your services to their friends and family.
