Mei Vintage mixes beautiful vintage kimonos and leather remnants to create one of a kind handbags. Based in Hermosa Beach, Ca, Alice Huang handcrafts her pieces right here in the US. She believes in using sustainable materials in order to prevent waste. Alice began collecting vintage kimonos while in college in Hawaii. Her collection paid off when she created her handbag line, Mei Vintage. Mei is Chinese for beautiful and her bags are truly exquisite. The designs are vintage inspired yet have an architectural structured influence as well.

The Origami Clutch is one of my favorites and crafted beautifully. The clutch is made from Italian lambskin, wooden handles and a hemp cotton lining. I absolutely love the structure of the wooden handles making this a perfect day clutch.

Her wallets are fabulous and I can't wait to get my hands on one! The Hermosa wallet shows the beautiful kimono textile and accented by soft Italian lambskin. A one of a kind work of art crafted right here in California.
