Matt and Nat's Laptop Case is the Apple of Our Eyes

Finally! The ecoista (that's like a fashionista, but eco) can tote her laptop around in something that doesn't resemble a man's briefcase or, worse yet, feature bright polka dots or other hyper-girly designs. Apple Computers and Matt & Nat (yes, technology does make strange bedfellows), have teamed up to make The Ritual, a candy "apple" red vegan laptop bag that somehow manages to look like a very stylish shoulder bag.

Designed to hold a 13" MacBook, this bag is a techie's delight with additional pockets for iPhone, iPod or iPod Shuffle. The collaboration has spawned three additional designs that are just as functional — two even boast an iPad pocket — but we prefer this red-hot version. To see the entire "Apple Collection" or order the $180 Ritual, visit www.mattandnat.com.

Mei is Beautiful

Mei is the Chinese word for beautiful and, in the case of Mei Vintage handbags, the name says it all! Created by designer Alice Huang, the collection focuses on four unique styles that blend Huang's Los Angeles and Asian roots beautifully. It is a simple, yet stunning collection of causal hobos, elegant clutches, chic wallets and ladylike shoulder bags, handcrafted from recycled leather and vintage kimono fabrics, and expertly lined with hemp cotton. Huang's eye for detail in this collection is amazing and authentic with highlights, including the gentle pleats of the Origami Clutch (left/$295) and the vintage kimono inlay on the limited edition Hermosa Wallet (right/$148) with its versatile wrist strap. Made in small batches by hand in the USA, we think this line is, in a word, Mei! View the entire collection at www.meivintage.com.
