

The Fifty States Register Print.

Adventure inspiration and illustration key.

Alabama. Soak in the local football culture and drop by a college or high school game.

Alaska. Spot grizzlies fishing for salmon in the waterfalls at Katmai Nat'l Park.

Arizona. Experience the unique desert scenery of Saguaro Nat'l Park

Arkansas. Hike through Ozark National Forest to the famous Hawksbill Crag.

California. Watch surfers catch perfect waves at hidden coves along the state's dreamy coastline.

Colorado. Hit the slopes at a remote ski mountain or tranquil backcountry destination.

Connecticut. Experience local sea-fairing history and sail the coast at the Mystic Seaport.

Delaware. Visit Nemours Estate, known as the Versailles of the Americas by a small group of admirers.

Florida. Forget your adulthood at the most magical theme park in the world.

Georgia. Get out of the city and experience the orchards and backroads of the hill country.

Hawai'i. Explore the islands' rich cultural traditions and soak in the dramatic landscapes.

Idaho. Walk into time-capsule of 1800s life at Custer Ghost Town. And eat a potato.

Illinois. Take a stroll along the Chicago lake front and through Millennium Park.

Indiana. See the best (and worst) of racing culture at the iconic Indianapolis 500.

Iowa. Welcome to pork country. Thank a pig in person for being delicious and eat bacon all day.

Kansas. Walk through a golden sea of sunflowers in the late summer.

Kentucky. Go to a Derby Day* party, or just share a glass of bourbon with a local.

Louisiana. Lose track of the night in one of New Orleans' countless jazz clubs.

Maine. Look out over stunning fall landscapes on a hike through Acadia Nat'l Park.

Massachusetts. Breathe in the solace and quaint scenery on Nantucket Island.

Maryland. Walk along Baltimore's iconic Inner Harbor and be sure to eat a lot of fresh crab.

Michigan. Cross the Mackinac Bridge and explore the remote corners of the N. Peninsula.

Minnesota. Experience the state's lake culture or escape the crowds in Voyageurs Nat'l Park.

Missouri. Stare up at the unnecessarily tall Gateway Arch in the capital, St. Louis.

Mississippi. Take a riverboat cruise up the largest river in N. America.

Montana. Spend a week off the grid in Glacier Nat'l Park, surrounded by the park's vast wildlife.

Nebraska. Check out unique land formations, like Chimney Rock and Toadstool Geologic Park.

Nevada. Visit the most famous gambling destination in the country. Try everything once.

New Hampshire. Take the cog railway to the top of Mt. Washington and take in the expansive views.

New Jersey. If you end up here, visit the historic (and revitalized) Atlantic City boardwalk.

New Mexico. Explore the beautiful rural mountain communities and abandoned Spanish missions.

New York. Time-travel to when immigrants were welcome, at the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island.

N. Carolina. Visit the Outer Banks and watch the island's wild horses run the beaches.

N. Dakota. See the largest herd of wild bison in the world at Theodore Roosevelt Nat'l Park.

Ohio. Move your stomach into your throat at one of the state's famous amusement parks.

Oklahoma. Instead of driving through, experience the peace of rural lifestyle firsthand at a farm-stay.

Oregon. Hike through incredibly lush forests to waterfalls like the famous Multnomah Waterfall.

Pennsylvania. Walk through Independence Hall and see the nation's birthplace firsthand.

Rhode Island. Act like a local and see the beautiful coast and iconic lighthouses from a yacht.

S. Carolina. Split time between the nostalgia of Charleston and the non-stop energy of Myrtle Beach.

S. Dakota. See surprisingly large sculptures of four presidents on the rocky cliffs of a mountain.

Tennessee. See a show at the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, the home of country music.

Texas. Visit the Alamo, the site of the most famous losing battle in the nation's history.

Utah. It's hard to pick between so many natural wonders, but Arches Nat'l Park is a good start.

Vermont. Walk through beautiful maple forests, check out a maple syrup farm, and eat a stack of pancakes.

Virginia. Take a carriage ride* through Colonial Williamsburg and get a glimpse into the state's past.

W. Virginia. Drive through the hills through coal country and take a tour of an abandoned mine.

Washington. Look out from the top of the Space Needle, then go get lost in the state's vast wilderness areas.

Wisconsin. Be sure to visit a dairy, hug a cow, and eat your fair share of cheese curds.

Wyoming. Make the drive to the unbelievable sights of the Grand Tetons and Yellowstone Nat'l Park.

