

We Make Good

Beautiful Irish design furniture and fitouts
by Ireland's leading social enterprise brand

Design that changes lives.

Your environment needs to look good and be well designed. We believe it should also reflect your values. Our products stand for what people most value - a society that looks after people and the planet. You can be part of this story.

Our design team will work with you to create beautiful, contemporary interiors that highlight your commitment to a fairer, more equal society.

Our products provide employment to skilled craftspeople from refugee, disability, prison or recovery backgrounds.

Including social enterprises in your supply chain shows your customers that you care.

People are increasingly looking for assurance that your business shares their values. By working with us to tell a shared story of hope and kindness your customers and staff can better understand the values that you share with them.

We can provide a bespoke design solution including:

- Reception furniture
- Storage solutions
- Statement pieces for your office (board tables, cubicles, screens)
- Cafe furniture
- Conference printing (totes and tees)
- Corporate gifts

“The team delivered a complex brief with creativity and met all our specifications and quality standards. We are delighted to be able to work with this inspiring social enterprise brand.”

Jobs in creation for people from disadvantaged backgrounds

We represent over 15 Irish social enterprises

Our network of social enterprises aims to create 50 jobs and trainee roles over the next five years for people from disadvantaged backgrounds. We give people a hand up to create better lives for themselves, their families and communities.

Ethics, environment and people

We choose materials and processes that have a low environmental impact. We are ethical, sustainable and fair. We create change, value and impact in everything we do.

Our process is:

- Meeting to understand your needs
- Preparing an initial proposal
- Once we are working together; providing detailed specs for your approval
- Delivering on time and in budget
