

Brooklyn Valance

9295

This design was inspired for people who want a simple and professional-looking window treatment that is very easy to make.

There are a variety of width sizes for the valance sections. There is also a 6" wide accent piece that is optional to use between the valance sections. Also included, is a decorative tail piece that is optional to use at each end.

Each valance section is made as a fl at piece (contrast lined). When placed over a pole, the back of the valance can hang 19" or up to 21" deep at the deepest point. How deep the valance hangs will affect how much contrast lining is showing. For example, if the back of the valance hangs 19", the front will hang 17", and about 2" of contrast lining will show. If the back of the valance hangs 21", the front will hang 15", and about 6" of contrast lining will show. Alteration instructions are included to make the valance any depth.

As is, the decorative tail is 2 1/2" wide at the top and 32" deep. It does not have a return, which makes it important to use decorative brackets to install the pole. The tail can be altered in depth. It is about 6" wide at the widest part. It attaches to the top of the pole with hook and loop tape, or staples.

The 6" accent piece finishes at 49" deep. This allows it to hang 27" in back and 22" in front. This piece can be altered to any depth.

Fabric Suggestions: Light, medium or heavy fabrics can be used. With light fabrics, use an interlining. Everything should be self or contrast lined. The tail is cut on a curve, stripes and patterns will hang at an angle.

Trims: Trims may be used on the bottom edge of all pieces. Deep trims applied to the front side will cover the lining that shows from the bottom edge. Because of the intricate shape, trims will be more difficult to apply.

YARDAGE

To determine your valance section size, subtract 2 1/2" for each decorative tail and 6" for each accent piece used. Then divide by the number of sections desired. You can also mix sizes. To use the patterns, sizes need to stay between 34" to 48".

With so many different fabric widths and repeat sizes available today, we find it works best if we give you the actual pattern sizes so you can determine how they will fit on your fabric.

Upright Cut:

The valance pattern is.....your width plus 1" x 37" deep

The tail pattern is16" wide x 35" deep

The accent pattern is.....7" wide x 50" deep

Lengthwise Cut: The width measurement will run with the selvage.

Same amount of contrast lining will be needed for all the above.

Same amount of interlining (optional).

Tassels are optional.
