

WE'RE TALKING ABOUT... FAKE PRODUCTS!

As you know by now, we're passionate about stomping out the fake products of the cake world. We catch up with Sandie Heydon, one of our loyal subscribers, to hear about what happened when she started out in the cake world and was tempted to try a fake product...

Want to see your review or personal story here? Email us at cakesocial@warnersgroup.co.uk

"I started off on my cake journey five years ago and looked at photos of cakes to self-teach myself. As cake equipment was expensive, I decided in my wisdom to order cheap products via the internet and direct from China.

Once received, I soon realised that these products were inferior and would break or not give a clean cut. The moulds were not detailed and stuff mostly got stuck in the mould even after freezing (and swearing). The cutters were not precision made and left jagged edges when cut. I also found that the intricate parts were so small that the minute you tried to remove them they broke!

I then decided to try out a Katy Sue mould. Wow, what a difference! It turned out perfectly, with no waste and saved me a lot of time. I will no longer buy fakes. Although they appear cheap at first, they are actually false value as you end up wasting not only your money on the goods, but your ingredients and most importantly your valuable time and energy." Sandie Heydon, CD&S subscriber

REAL PRODUCTS WE RECOMMEND:

Katy Sue Pretty Petals Silicone Mould, £12.98

www.katysuedesigns.com

Dove Novelty Plunger Cutter, £7.45

www.thecakedecoratingcompany.co.uk

FMM Carnival Alphabet and Number Set, £8

www.fmm糖craft.com

