

GloLens Take Selfies To a New Level

In this day and age all the kids are taking selfies or shooting videos or a combination of both right? Charlie has his own little Youtube channel that he does videos on and both kids do reviews for me here on our channel. It's been great fun but I've found that lighting can be an issue. We took our spare room and turned it into a quiet space. Its a great room for Rae to read, do her homework and craft. Its a space for me to take blog photos, videos and read/knit. We painted the room a bright silvery blue which is great for photos and videos as it's nice and crisp but when it's dark outside we still need some extra light. The other day was a perfect day to test out a new product. We were sent a GloLens to review for our Holiday Gift Guide. All opinions are our own.

The GloLens clips on any cellphone camera and adds a little or a lot of light to make photos better. This is going to be a great stocking stuffer for the teens and tweens in your life and the price point is fantastic at just $22. The little LED light is strong and has three levels to make lighting perfect in all situations including those darker night situations. The GloLens is also a wide angle lens so this makes it easier to add a few extra people in with ease!

Check out the video we took showing the GloLens in action. Keep in mind when I used it it was rainy and dark outside!

The GloLens is a great product from Fashionit who also has travel bags, earbuds, phone cases, cable jewelry (necklaces and bracelets that are charging cables) and more. Who would be the perfect gift recipient of a GloLens this Holiday Season in your life? I know I have a few on our list from the tween girls that we love dearly to my nieces. Charlie has already taken over this one because he's found it makes his videos much clearer for his channel. The GloLens recently arrived at Francesca stores and immediately became their #1 best-selling item after only a week! In addition to Francesca's, you can buy at stores like Popfizz Boutique, ShopBop.com, TheGrommet.com, Books a Million, and more.
