

HURRICANE™ MACHINE

The Sorinex Hurricane is a leverage machine that is designed to utilize the many strengths of loaded training while having the safety mechanisms inherent with a machine. Each arm of the Hurricane is designed to be plate loaded with a universal joint attachment that allows each arm to move laterally as well as vertically. Each arm is equipped with a rotating adjustable handle to allow vertical grip as well as horizontal grip and all grips in between. The Hurricane also comes equipped with an adjustable spring-loaded spotter bar for an easy to set up the starting point for any lift. It even comes with utility pins for maximizing banded workouts.
