

STANDING CHEST PRESS

Boost your upper body strength with the Sorinex Standing Chest Press Machine. This American-made machine boasts a durable 11-gauge steel frame, incorporating our exclusive 4-way hole system for added customization and modularity. Use weight pins for plate storage or insert band pegs for extra resistance. The machine features an oversized double-stitched, premium Naugahyde back pad for maximum support and comfort during heavy pressing. The adjustable knurled metal handles slide in and out of the uprights with an additional 4 horizontal handles for unlimited hand placement options. The machine boasts a range limiter for return to play and safety measures. Available in a range of custom colors to match your aesthetic.
