2019 Coastview Vineyard "Cuvée 831" Pinot Noir/Chardonnay Co-Ferment

Grape(s): 66% Pinot Noir, 34% Chardonnay

Vineyard: Straddling an exposed ridge of limestone, granite and chalk soils, Coastview sits at 2400 ft. elevation with sweeping views of the Salinas Valley, the surrounding Gabilan Mountains, and Monterey Bay in the distance.

Coastview was planted in the 90s by John Allen, who continues to organically farm the vineyard alongside his son, Parker Allen. Their holistic approach with focus on sustainability can be seen in everything, from the large flock of Pygmy sheep that they use in lieu of herbicides and fertilizer, to the artesian spring wells that they use for irrigation in times of severe drought.

Breezes blowing in from the Bay create a maritime climate, with warm days of consistent sunshine moderated by cool nights for even ripening -- making for concentrated flavors in the grapes and elegant acidity.

AVA: Monterey

Method: The fruit was brought into the cellar and foot-crushed. The whole clusters were co-fermented, receiving one pumpover per day during fermentation for a total of eight weeks maceration. Raised for ten months in 500L neutral oak barrels and racked once to tank before bottling, the finished wine was bottled unfiltered, unfiltered, with zero sulfur.

ABV: 11.4%
