

Drawing by Roxanne Gooderham

PRIVATE DRAWING

LESSONS

Are you a beginner who has an interest in drawing? Are you creative and love to draw but don't get a chance to fully explore this at home? Or are you wanting to expand and work upon the drawing skills you already have and want more specific tutoring?

Does your child express a keen interest in drawing but doesn't get the opportunity to do any at school? Perhaps your child is working towards their GCSE's or A-Levels and is needing extra guidance or portfolio advice in preparation for further education? Or perhaps they're already at university and are looking for some extra tuition? Roxanne teaches children 7yrs upwards and is fully DBS checked.

Each lesson is tailored to suit your needs accordingly. Whether you're a beginner or more advanced and wanting to learn more, then these lessons are the perfect solution.

Taught by professional artist, Roxanne Gooderham, these one to one, private drawing lessons run for as long as you need them and are taught from Roxanne's working studio in Gailey, South Staffordshire. She provides tutoring on drawing media, particularly graphite, charcoal, pen and ink.

A selection of basic, quality drawing materials are provided but advice will be given on where to purchase materials not currently offered by the tutor. You are welcome to bring along your own drawing media if you'd like advice or guidance on how to get the most out of these.

Roxanne charges £30 an hour for private, one to one lessons and her focus will solely be on you and your drawing development, something which you don't get in a group class environment. Roxanne will be there to help support and guide you all the way.

For more information about Roxanne and her art practice

Click here

To discuss your requirements

Contact Roxanne