

Setting Sprays With SPF Are Your New Summer Makeup Must-Have

Putting on makeup every morning requires a certain amount of time and effort — time you could've spent hitting snooze and going right back to sleep. When you've forsaken 30 extra minutes of rest for flawless foundation and well-placed blush, the last thing you want to do is reapply sunscreen throughout the day and end up with that perfect blush smeared on your forehead instead.

Still, sun protection is a non-negotiable, and reapplying is just as important as putting it on in the first place. Luckily, there's a solution in the form of setting sprays with SPF. Not only will these formulas hold your makeup in place for extended wear, but they also make reapplying sunscreen beyond easy — and can provide the daily protection you need if you haven't found an SPF moisturizer you love just yet.

Spritz on this SPF 30 formula for a long-wearing mattifying effect and a boost from skin-care ingredients like aloe vera and hyaluronic acid.

Coola Makeup Setting Spray SPF 30, $36.00, available at Sephora.
