

7 New 2019 Body Oils & Luminizers At Sephora For The Ultimate All-Over Glow

Nothing says summer quite like shimmering, sun-kissed skin peeking out from a slinky dress. But between potential for sun damage and the super-drying effects of days spent dipping in the pool, achieving a glorious all-over glow can actually be a whole lot easier said than done. Or so you thought. Enter the latest drop of new body oils & luminizers at Sephora, all of which are aimed at helping you achieve that lit-from-within look in an instant. It's officially never been easier to get your glow on.

So you've got your go-to highlighter and bronzer that help you get that goddess-like glow all over your face. But now that summer's right around the corner, and you're likely to be showing a bit more skin than in months past, what about the rest of your body? The last thing you'll want is dull, dry legs when donning a flirty mini-dress or cutoff denim. The solution is a luxe, hydrating all-over skin luminizer that gives you a dose of much-needed hydration — and just the right amount of golden, glowing shimmer. And as luck would have it, Sephora's new arrivals section includes several worthy options.

Love lots and lots of look-at-me shimmer? Opt for Fenty Beauty's newest shade of its bestselling Body Lava Body Luminizer, the golden-metallic Trophy Wife hue. You may recognize the name and color from the brand's bestselling highlighter — and this $59 all-over body oil gives the same megawatt gold glow. It's also available in a gleaming rose gold shade and a glistening deep bronze.

Want even more shimmery options? Sol de Janeiro's new Glowmotions body oil, $35, gives you five different fine-glitter shades to choose from. And this rich oil won't just help you reach new levels of beach-babe glow; with coconut oil and cupuaçu butter it'll also deep-condition skin for long lasting moisture.

For show-stopping shine, but less shimmer, snag the incredibly luxe Rodin Olio Lusso Jasmine & Neroli Luxury Body Oil. The fragrant, fast-absorbing oil, $136 per bottle, delivers plant-derived hydration from ingredients like argan oil and spanish apricot seed oil that leave skin looking luminous, healthy, and natural. Pro tip: apply directly after showering so the oil can soak deeper into your skin for maximum moisture-retention.

There's even more newly dropped glow-getting body products where those came from at Sephora, so keep scrolling to discover them all. Your skin is about to shimmer and shine all summer long.

Coola Sunless Tan Luminizing Body Serum

$48

SEPHORA

No downtime waiting for your gradual tan to develop with Coola's newest product, which will build bronzy color over time but also gives skin an instant luminous and shimmery glow with hydrating shea butter and baobab seed oil.

SEE ON SEPHORA