2. About this Cookie Policy

This Cookie Policy provides further information about several types of computer cookies and why we use them. The information below is intended to give you a better understanding of what cookies are and what role they play when you visit our Website.

3. What is a cookie?

A cookie is a mini-file placed on the website of the visitor of a website to facilitate the communication between the computer of the visitor (whatever the type used - computer, smartphone, console or video games connected to internet, ...) and the website’s server. In this limited sense the cookie fulfils the role of a simple witness to the transaction by storing certain information.

Thereafter, technological developments allow the purposes of cookies to be extended to monitor, for example: performance of the website, audience of the website, statistics, memorization of preferences and/or enable targeted advertising. In this broader sense, the cookie refers to all the files that store excerpts of the information conveyed or generated during exchanges between a website and its visitors, whether they are stored on the visitor's workstation or on a server. It is in this more extensive sense that the term is used in this Cookie Policy. (see below: categories of cookies used on our Website)

4. Why do we use cookies?

Cookies help us improve our Website and provide a better and more personalized service to you by, for example, storing information about your preferences and allowing us to recognize you when you return to our Website. You may refuse to accept cookies by activating the settings of your internet browser. However, if you select such settings certain parts of our Website may not work or may not work as well.

The information we collect may consist of IP addresses, browser version, location, number of visits, which pages you visit, and your viewing preferences. Cookies are personal data and relate to a directly or indirectly identifiable person, for example the IP address of the computer you use. This policy is therefore to be read together with our privacy policy accessible at https://cdn.shopify.com/s/files/1/2612/3134/files/PrivacyPolicy_KinArmat.pdf?158 .

5. Consent to our use of cookies

We ask for your explicit consent to post cookies on your device. Please note that if you continue to browse our Website after receiving our notification about cookies this implies your continued consent to our use of cookies.

You may withdraw your approval for our use of cookies at any time. If you want to restrict or block cookies which are set on your device, you can do this by using your browser settings. The help function of your browser can tell you how. You can also use your browser settings to remove cookies that have been installed. However, please note that if you select such browser settings, you may not be able to access our Website or its functionality may be limited as a result.

6. Use of Web Beacons

Some of our webpages can contain electronic images, called web-beacons, among other things, these allow us to count the number of visitors who visit these pages. Web beacons collect only limited information, including a cookie number, time and date of page viewing, and a description of the page on which the web-page resides. We may also use web beacons posted by third party advertisers. These beacons do not contain personally identifiable information and are only used to track the effectiveness of particular marketing campaigns.

7. Changes to our Cookie Policy

We reserve the right to modify or update this Cookie Policy to take account of best practice at any time. We will notify you of any changes by updating the date that appears at the top of the Cookie Policy. We encourage you to review the current policy from time to time.
