

The Happy Home Health Agency

HOW A HOME HEALTH AGENCY TRAINED IN ENRICHMENT ACTIVITIES BENEFITS DEMENTIA PATIENTS AND THEIR FAMILY CAREGIVERS.

- ✓ Caring for the patient in the home providing the additional activity care increases patient stimulation promoting a better quality of life
- ✓ Enriching the patient's day to day activities offers satisfaction to their family caregiver
- ✓ Offering additional activities, as part of the plan of care, provides families options to keep patients at home, while receiving more stimulation. The alternative is to send clients to outside programs.

Caring for my client in their home and providing therapeutic activities has impacted their quality of life. Having the training to do this has benefited my skills as a caregiver.

We finally found a Home Health company that provides enrichment activities along with personal care. It's made all difference to a better quality of life at home.

We are so pleased that our visits to our clients have increased while we have provided this new approach to in-home care. Receiving training to train our own caregivers works.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS TO A TRAINED HOME HEALTH AGENCY USING THIS PLAN OF CARE APPROACH.

- ✓ Better quality of life for your patients and their caregivers gives agency a competitive advantage promoting services
- ✓ With the proper training for short enrichment activities, for caregivers, the agency can see an increase in client visit hours and in the number of days scheduled by caregiver
- ✓ Increased referrals from satisfied patient-caregivers
- ✓ A better-informed and skilled team & increased quality of working skills and knowledge
