PRINTING ON GLASS

Interior design involves the search for unusual solutions which give a room a unique flair. But the character of a house is formed not only from its furniture and furnishings, but most of all by the people who live there. Every room should reflect the passions, dreams, and tastes of its occupants. An interesting way to create individualised design elements is printing on glass. The combination of this meterial with an individual design makes glass graphics perfect for both classic and modern interiors.

A variety of designs can be applied to the glass, depending on the style of the room and its function.
A perfect match for a modern living room is a black and white cityscape or portrait of a celebrity, while a kitchen will be enhanced by an illustration of an appetising dish or composition of herbs. It's important that the picture should be as universal as possible: the use of classical motifs and restrained colours means that the decoration will match the room even if the interior design changes.

If you don't find a design that suits you from among our ready-made solutions, we can create a custom design, as printing on glass allows unique, individual graphics to be created. It could be a family photo, your own graphic composition, or a photo of a place which brings back beautiful emories. The children's room is the perfect place for motifs from favourite fairytales, or can even feature a graphic illustration of the child itself.
An ideal solution for busy, organised people who value order and tidiness is a noticeboard. By using special markers, the glass printing can be used to make shopping lists, assign household chores, or leave a message for the rest of the family...

Applications of printing on glass:

- A picture that can be hung on every wall of the house, including in the bathroom
- Large-format panels can be used for walls of shower stalls
- A picture can be used as a protective coating for kitchen countertops
- Wall decoration placed behind the headboard of a bed
- Noticeboard for members of the household
