

ST JOHNS WORT HERBAL OIL

Botanical Name: Hypericum perforatum

Plant Part: Flowers

Infused In: Extra Virgin Olive Oil

Standardization: 20% dry herb/L of oil (i.e., 200 g herb per 1000 ml of oil)

Common Uses: Infused St. John's Wort has always been commonly used in infused oil, and was an integral part of every European herb garden throughout the centuries.

Please note: Our St John's Wort oil is suitable for cosmetic applications and is produced using dried flowers and herbs and hence the lack of red color. Red color is possible only when fresh flowers are used in the summer season. ( For this reason, the red colored St John's Wort tend to be vastly more expensive).

Cautions: St. John's Wort Oil may cause photosensitivity. Users should avoid direct sunlight after application.
