

BUILT FOR TUFF STUFF

Some people think that to get the best of anything, you have to pay a lot – but not for Tony and Susan Nankervis who are the driving force behind the successful Tuff Tool Bags brand.

After years as an Electrician, Tony developed an easier way than lugging around a heavy toolbox or doubling back and forward to the truck for tools he needed for a job.

“They say that necessity is the mother of all invention, and that was the case with our designs of the Tuff Tool Bag,” Tony tells us as he showcases his very organised collection of tools in his blue and red bag.

“You’ve got to really feel comfortable with [your own tool bag], when you need to have that tool or gadget right away, it really should be right there at your fingertips so you don’t waste time.” Tony tells us that the proper one is really a personal choice.

And it’s with that method and detail in mind that Tony and Susan designed and manufactured the Tuff Tool Bag.

We also did our research and zoomed around both on and offline, and found that there are so many tool bag choices to choose from. If you’re a busy tradie, finding the right toolbag could be expensive and bewildering.

“Yes, we agree that there are so many choices, but what makes ours different is the durability and reliability of the canvas that we use. Plus, we have worked really hard on including the little features that make a big difference to a tradie,” Susan tells.

Like any tradesman, Tony and Susan are working smarter and they take great pride in providing a unique design, at a price that is affordable to all industries globally, with their online shop and delivery system.

“We now have distributors in North Queensland, South East Queensland and Western Australia to keep up with the demand,” Susan proudly states.

“We have worked really hard on including the little features that make a big difference to a tradie.”

Even in the harshest working environment, the Tuff Tool Bag durability and reliability are second to none.
