

Description

MADE BIG FOR BIG SQUATTERS AND BIG SQUATS

Designed specifically for squats, this bar has a thicker diameter than a normal barbell. This helps the bar sit better on your back and it has a bigger contact area to provide more grip. The Cerberus Squat Bar has a hard, stiff feel with very little give. It is fully knurled to ensure you have grip no matter where you have it on your back or in whichever position your hands are.

Powerlifting Markings as well as a centre ring means you get the bar in the correct position every time. The extra bar length is also great for bigger lifters or if you have issues with flexibility or elbow pain it gives you more space under the bar for your hand position.

With a massive loadable sleeve length of 50.8cm you can get more plates on this bar and we have still kept the overall length of the barbell to 2.4m. This is within the rules for maximum length for specialised bars for most powerlifting federations. This is a extremely durable barbell with Bronze bushes, zinc shaft and sleeves and has our Cerberus Strength 3-year functional warranty*.
