

EXCEED High Row

Description

Build a stronger and defined back with our Exceed High Row. Featuring adjustable seat and thigh supports and swivel handles, the Exceed High Row is suitable for athletes of all shapes and sizes. The plate loaded design allows for customizable resistance levels, making it perfect for all fitness levels. The sturdy and durable construction ensures you can push your limits in a safe manner on a machine designed with feedback from professional bodybuilders.

At Bench Fitness, we strive to exceed expectations, and our Exceed Plate loaded machines exemplify this philosophy. You can customize the complete range of machines with an extensive range of colors and even add your own branding for a personalized touch. Additionally, all Exceed plate loaded machines are compatible with our REVOLVE band pegs, which can help you take your workouts to the next level.
