COME TOGETHER
The Architecture of Multigenerational Living

Grand designs for grandparents, grandkids, and everybody in between.

Three, four, or sometimes more generations of the same family often opt to live together under one roof. The 20th-century emphasis on a single-family home for the suburban family or a swanky bachelor pad is falling short of modern needs, instead, we are seeing more tiers of the family unit preferring to live together.

Come Together explores the why, what, where, and perhaps most importantly, the how, of homes that succeed to be liveable for multiple generations. With insight from inhabitants cohabiting in multigenerational homes, this book explores subjects such as the opportunity to care for one another, how to save on costs, and why this lifestyle can forge closer relationships. Featuring architecturally stunning designs from around the globe, Come Together points to the changing face of the family home.

WHAT TO EXPECT
• Photography of multigenerational homes around the world, as well as innovative, community-oriented housing
• The voices of leading architects to understand on the benefits of this family style living, and how to design for all ages
• In-depth features that investigate cultural, historical, and sociological nuances of multigenerational living

JOANN PLOCKOVA is a renowned design writer who contributes to the New York Times international homes section. She also writes for the likes of Monocle, Azure, and the Financial Times House & Home. She lives and works from Prague, her adopted home, and the US, her original one, whilst living part-time in a multigenerational home.
CABIN FEVER

Enchanting Cabins, Shacks, and Hideaways

Cabin Fever takes a broad look at remote retreats designed to make the most of their natural surroundings and illustrates why the call of the wild is louder than ever. A desire to escape the commotion of the city without sacrificing creature comforts is something felt by many; especially in today's interconnected world.

Featuring rustic timber cabins on stilts, mirrored pods in the woods, and off-grid getaways, Cabin Fever showcases a new wave of modern hideaways, all remotely positioned and away from the hustle and bustle.

Nestled in thriving woodlands, overlooking bodies of water, or even exposed to the elements on a mountain's peak, architects are contending to create high-impact spaces on a small scale. Cabin Fever takes a broad look at remote retreats designed to make the most of their natural surroundings and illustrates why the call of the wild is louder than ever. A desire to escape the commotion of the city without sacrificing creature comforts is something felt by many; especially in today's interconnected world.

Featuring rustic timber cabins on stilts, mirrored pods in the woods, and off-grid getaways, Cabin Fever showcases a new wave of modern hideaways, all remotely positioned and away from the hustle and bustle.

WHAT TO EXPECT
• Stunning interior photography and on-location shots of some of the most exciting small-scale architecture from around the world
• A look at how architects are using innovative design methods to blend in with breathtaking natural surroundings
• Vacation inspiration that will have you packing your bags and running for the hills

INSPIRING FAMILY HOMES

Family-friendly
Interiors & Design

It is often said that a family creates a home, and the home keeps the family together. This book explores what it means to live and share a space with those closest to us from a design perspective. Inspiring Family Homes takes the reader around the world, opening the doors of all kinds of homes, with all kinds of families. It shows how to work around the challenges of sharing a space with children and to eventually create a place for gathering and growing. By showcasing the adaptable and flexible ways to foster an environment for everyone, this title shows why you don’t have to give up a love of design. MilK Magazine, the go-to platform for both world-class interior and family living, selects its most special stories in a title essential for any home and every family.

WHAT TO EXPECT
- The first international book by MilK, bridging the topics covered by their two celebrated magazines
- An inspirational title illustrating how modern families live and decorate homes around the world, with insightful information and practical tips
- A must-read for anyone with a love for design and a house shared with children

MILK is an independent magazine created in 2003 by Isis-Colombe Combréas. Family is what MILK is all about. From its debut as a pioneer in children’s fashion, MILK has become an international leader in the family lifestyle sector. It is a key influencer addressing the subjects of fashion, lifestyle, travel, culture, food and society. It embodies an aesthetic and hedonistic take on life, seen through the prism of the family unit.
COUNTRY AND COZY
Countryside Homes and Rural Retreats

The charm of life in the country and a selection of the best examples of countryside homes.

Quiet and quaint, the countryside comes with its own pace of living—and depending on where you are, its own regional flair. Turning away from traffic-choked streets and onto meandering country paths, urban residents are increasingly choosing to take up residence in greener pastures. Country and Cozy opens doors and pulls back the floral curtains to reveal a more characterful approach to interior design and decoration. Whether it’s a converted outhouse in the south of France, a Latin American Finca, or a whimsical English cottage complete with a thatched roof, Country and Cozy showcases a series of beautiful country homes and illustrates how their inhabitants have created breathtaking living spaces that make the most out of rural life.

WHAT TO EXPECT
• Beautiful residences and interior designers who specialize in country homes
• Tips, tricks, and bountiful inspiration for anyone looking to convert a barn or historic farmhouse
• A truly global list of homes and interiors
LIFE’S A BEACH

Homes, Retreats, and Respite by the Sea

Characterful cottages, bungalows, and grand getaways alike, all designed to kick back and enjoy life by the sea.

There are no two ways about it: life is better by the sea. The salty air, the sound of the waves and, above all, the relaxed way of life. This low-key attitude to living manifests itself in how we decorate our homes by the sea.

Life’s A Beach takes readers into beach homes around the world—from the hills of New Zealand to beaches of Brazil to the remote islands of the Aegean—exploring the many ways to decorate a cozy home by the sea. Handmade touches, natural materials and eclectic interiors all imbue a sense of wellbeing, and are found throughout the homes in Life’s A Beach. From humble little beach cottages to extraordinary modern bungalows, these spaces are designed for respite and relaxation, and for enjoying the beachy surrounds.

URBAN FARMERS

The Now (and How) of Growing Food in the City

Soil, seeds, and concrete can be the unexpected formula for a greener, healthier, and more sustainable life in the city.

We are what we eat, but do you know what you’re eating? As our world becomes increasingly defined by urban structures, exploring inner-city agriculture has become an important tool in enriching quality of life for many. From underground mushroom farms to rooftop beekeeping, Urban Farmers explores the fascinating and diverse world of planting, growing, and harvesting.

Equipped with the right know-how and the proper tools for growth, we are well on our way to ensuring the spaces we inhabit evolve in a healthy direction and a passion for nature is nourished. A must-have manual for city-dwellers who dream of a greener life, Urban Farmers offers an opportunity to learn best practices from experts and encourages you to get your hands dirty, be it in your balcony or beyond.

VALERY RIZZO is an American portrait, food, and lifestyle photographer whose work centers around urban life and agriculture. She has been featured in The New York Times Style Magazine, Yes! Magazine, Télérama, D La Repubblica, Der Spiegel, and several other esteemed publications.

DR. JULIANA DAL PIANO is a sociologist and a Master in Planning and Environmental Sciences in northern Italy. Her work focuses on issues related to food and thriving urban communities. In her research, she is dedicated to how agriculture can be integrated into urban environments to foster sustainable food production.

A CSA is a partnership through which a farmer sells produce directly to a customer at the beginning of the growing season. Through a tier-pricing system (the team sets a minimum and maximum price range), CSA customers commit to buying the produce that the farmers grow. Yes! Magazine, Télérama, D La Repubblica, Der Spiegel, and several other esteemed publications.
The perfect city is yet to be built, but through collective actions the next generation could have it in sight.

If you look at recent buildings around the world, you’ll soon see that a plant-led approach is taking root. Nature and architecture have never been more intertwined, and there are more ways than ever to bring the two together: green roofs, living walls, lush courtyards, indoor gardens, and entire skyscrapers covered in plants. As more of the Earth’s surface is swallowed up by the built environment, architects are increasingly up to the task of integrating greenery into their creations.

Evergreen Architecture showcases new buildings and proposals where living plants play a leading role. From humble homes in California to sprawling green complexes in Singapore, this book explores how a green movement is starting to sprout in new and inventive ways around the world.
“An authentic breath of innovation coming from Chinese architecture. A considerable proportion of the exhibition was dedicated to Nature and Architecture, innovative rural architecture has the power to help restore rural heritage and activate local economies. As we continue to expect more of our apartments and houses, unexpected approaches are necessary to meet demand: skinny houses, parasitic dwellings, and micro-apartments offer a glimpse into what some architects believe is the future of urban housing. Vertical Living is an introduction to the architecture and interior masterminds using skillful design to conquer compact living wherever there is space.”

Slender, slim, tiny, and tall homes are plugging into increasingly dense cities around the world. In Vertical Living, a forgotten plot deemed too tight to develop becomes a spacious townhouse. A taxicab office becomes a poppy-pink micro-apartment. And in just the narrowest slivers of land around Tokyo, a cluster of Japanese architects have built high-functioning family homes. There’s a lot you can do with just a small pocket of space.

“Successive real estate booms and the increasingly soaring price of land in big cities have led architects to face the challenge of erecting buildings in smaller and smaller spaces. (...) Vertical Living, published by gestalten, travels the world showing these narrow houses, from tiny dwellings to skyscrapers, and offers an introduction to architecture with an ingenious design to conquer compact living wherever there is space.” (translated from Spanish) Elle Décor España

“The housing emergency can have spectacular solutions, in which limits act as a stimulus for the creativity of architects. With an eye to sustainability, flexibility and sharing.” (translated from Italian) La Repubblica

“Back to the countryside: how China’s hinterlands are being revitalized with markets, libraries, and hotels.” (translated from Italian) Elle Décor Italia

The simple, linear layout proceeds from the ground floor, up past the minimal kitchen, and on to promote a “sense of space.” The architects explain that the fixtures and fittings are muted for construction, the possibilities were undoubtedly constrained. In response, the architects focused on the “seven” levels are deceptive, as some spaces have double or triple height ceilings. The two views of the exterior show how the house is sandwiched into a corner space either side.

The best in vertical architecture from impossibly slender homes in narrow plots to the art of spacious design in compact infills.

The unique architectural language of China as told through homegrown design practices and the architects shaping its future.

China’s transformation over the past few decades has been nothing short of astounding. Mass urbanization, development at breakneck speed, and entire megacities built from scratch all led to the rise of this economic superpower. Just 15 years ago, the only modern form of architecture in China were skyscrapers, and the narrative was dominated by Western architects designing outlandish spectacles. But today, a new generation of homegrown, internationally educated talent is molding a design expression fusing centuries of local tradition with an utterly modern approach.

Beauty and the East presents the Chinese talent shaping a new aesthetic. Meet the rising stars, as well as leading architects and practices such as Wang Shu, Vector Architects, Neri & Hu, and Xi-Living in this glimpse into one of the world’s fastest-moving architecture scenes. From rural libraries to cultural institutions to entire cityscapes, explore a breathtaking view of Chinese architecture.

““An authentic breath of innovation coming from the East” (translated from Italian) GARCH

“The title charts the last two decades of ‘wild architectural experimentation’ across China and celebrates homegrown talent and new designs that challenge the norm.” WALLPAPER

“Browsing through Beauty and the East means observing the happiest episodes of (the) continuous dialogue between modernity and tradition, between the search for new languages and the recovery of ancient heritage, with very different results.” (translated from Italian) Elle Décor Italia

““Back to the countryside: how China’s hinterlands are being revitalized with markets, libraries, and hotels.” (translated from Italian)”

NEW MEDITERRANEAN
Homes and Interiors
Under the Southern Sun

Introducing the designers and architects who are leading the way, while investigating the traditional craftsmanship at the heart of this movement.

A welcoming, new, down-to-earth modernism is gaining momentum, from California to Morocco, Portugal to Mexico. This direction in interiors combines Mediterranean folkloric influences with a contemporary aesthetic—taking cues from sunny landscapes to embrace warmth, light, and organic elements. The New Mediterranean showcases inspiring residences and vacation homes around the world that combine rustic, earthy tones and patterns, “says designer Hubert Zandberg. White walls and wooden roof rafters offset the floor tiles, which range from herringbone to the iconic wavy, colorful Mediterranean floor tiles. "The New Mediterranean gives a modernist take with a collection of warm, minimalistic coastal interiors from around the world. In many ways, it feels almost like the new iteration of the now ubiquitous boho look—more pared back and less trend driven. (...) Following the coffee-table book’s style misadventures will give your home instant vacation vibes.” —DOMINO

“The mix of cool tiled floors and sun-warmed walls, of white and terracotta, of simply plastered surfaces and artisanal manufactured carpets is fascinating—for it is a tradition that anticipates modern minimalism.” (translated from German) ZEIT ONLINE
Marvel has shaped our understanding of visual culture like no other brand. This book, created in collaboration with Marvel, looks at 60 years of graphic output. Boom!

As one of the most recognizable brands in the world, Marvel’s rich history has inspired comic fans and the creative class. Moreover, it has defined the visual language of generation after generation: from 1960s Pop Art to present-day emoji culture, and advertising. The evolution of Marvel’s graphic design has been pivotal in the successful transformation of the brand through the ages, adapting to an evolving media environment, and making it an unrivaled example of charismatic heritage and ongoing innovation. Marvel by Design dissects everything from the renowned Marvel Method to the graphic elements that have formed some of the world’s most recognizable comics, logos, covers, templates, typefaces, brand books, and more.

Marvel by Design continues to join the dots between comic culture and its undeniable influence in every creative field. A must-read for anyone wishing to understand both comic history and modern culture.

WHAT TO EXPECT

• A tantalizing book in partnership with Marvel to celebrate its 60th anniversary
• Unique and high-quality imagery straight from the Marvel archives
• The first title dedicated exclusively to the dynamic graphic design of the Marvel universe and its impact on popular culture
• Insightful texts authored by an array of world-class comic and design experts is a writer and editor with more than a decade of experience covering the design and technology worlds. She’s currently the executive editor of Eye on Design, a publication about graphic design and its intersection with the wider world.

THE ART OF PROTEST

Political Art and Activism

Famous artists are commenting on politics and raising awareness on issues like authoritarian regimes, sustainability, climate change, diversity and immigration.

Thanks to art’s ability to communicate, manipulate and influence, art has always had a charged relationship with activism and politics. We are living in tumultuous times when democracies are challenged from all sides. Diverse topics are subjects that contemporary artists are covering in order to generate controversy, raise awareness and create empathy. The Art of Protest will explore the connection between art, politics, and activism today, revealing how, over the past decade, artists have been engaging with political and social issues of all kinds, through different artistic mediums.

WHAT TO EXPECT

- A truly global and representative snapshot of the state of art and activism today
- Profiles of around 100 artists
- Artwork ranging from painting, to sculpture, installations, performance, photography, and digital works
- A series of texts contextualizing the work within the current global political and artistic landscape

is the artistic director of the cultural institution NRW-Forum Düsseldorf. For the past two decades he has been organizing exhibitions with contemporary artists, especially in the fields of art and activism.

FRANCESCOCA GAVIN
is contributing editor at Kaleidoscope, Twin, Good Trouble, Beauty Papers, and Financial Times. How to Spend It magazine. She co-curated “Manifest11” and has curated exhibitions at Somerset House and Palais de Tokyo. She was co-editor of gestalten’s The Age of Collage 3, published in 2020.
Collage—an art form existing at the intersection of design, commerce, and abstract expression.

Cut, paste, create: while collage was conceived in the early 1900s, it seems to be the perfect form of expression for the twenty-first century, with all its juxtapositions, eclecticism, and strange bedfellows. In our present age of collage, the simple act of mixing together different elements allows us to question our reality and make new worlds. The Age of Collage showcases a new crop of artistic vanguards advancing the medium's possibilities, piece-by-piece. Equipped with a craft knife, paintbrush, stylos, scissors, or tablet, a collage artist's toolkit is as varied as their creations, and this book brings their work back to the paper page. From the poignant and provocative to the comic and curious, The Age of Collage features the creations of more than 60 artists. Packed with visuals and a number of in-depth profiles revealing what drives the hands behind the pieces, this comprehensive volume is a celebration of the enduring power of collage.

The Age of Collage presents work by Adam Pendleton, Amie Dicke, Anthony Zinonos, Collier Schorr, David Noonan, Dennis Busch, Eva Kot'átková, Jesse Draxler, Johanna Goodman, Kelly Maker, Kensuke Koike, Larry Achiampong, Lola Dure, Mathieu Beauzil, Penny Slinger, Peter Horvath, Sergei Sviatchenko, Weronika Gesicka, Yinka Shonibare, and many others.

Witty, surprising, refined, and, above all, truly unforgettable. If a picture speaks a thousand words, good branding helps you stand out from a thousand competitors.

Brand New Brand is a compendium of the best visual identities recently created for businesses of every kind, from all over the world. It shows how well-considered, holistic branding can take a butcher, book retailer, bakery, or even a physiotherapist from one of a crowd to one in a million. It shows how, in an era of pandemics and political and economic instability, creative, innovative thinking is the greatest asset.

In-depth case studies explore the ideas currently shaping the field of branding, such as the use of traditional techniques or the reinterpretation of local visual languages. This expertly curated collection explains the context, the thinking, and the inspiration behind the design, so you can understand and learn from each project, whether launching a new venture or giving your business a makeover.

“...This book helps you understand the new directions of branding through a careful selection of case studies, while also highlighting projects carried out with small budgets.” (translated from Italian) ON PRINTED PAPER

Peter Schreyer: Designer, Artist, and Visionary

Meet one of the most influential designers of our time—a book about heritage, creative vision, and leadership, and what design can do for the future.

Roots and Wings explores the life and work of Peter Schreyer, one of the most influential car designers of our time. A Renaissance man with an eye for detail and foresight for innovation, he geared himself toward success. Responsible for the births of some of the most iconic cars ever, his industry experience with Volkswagen, Audi, Kia, and Hyundai brought instant classics to the road. Schreyer embodies a conduit between the West and East—bridging his homeland’s history of automotive design with South Korea, a country that has experienced stratospheric growth on the world stage in just a few decades.

Looking at the formative moments and pivotal artistic discoveries that shaped his creative mindset, Roots and Wings is the story of how a man helped two polarizing cultures merge to create something unique and left a mark on history, and the future, in the process.

WHAT TO EXPECT

• An exclusive look at the life and work of Peter Schreyer, exploring the formative experiences and pivotal artistic discoveries that shaped his creative toolbox
• A comprehensive overview of Peter Schreyer's most impactful car designs, accompanied by rarely told design stories and stunning photography
• An exploration of the immense transformation of South Korea, and how design played a key role
This book tells the story of how to transform a vintage brand into a global success story. The key ingredients include: integrity, attention to detail, and an insatiable curiosity for the world.

It all started with a Balzac novel, a flea market find, and a jolt of creative inspiration. Fast-forward to the present day and Officine Universelle Buly has grown to become a true heavyweight in the beauty industry. Sold in almost every corner of the world, co-founder Ramdane Touhami infused an appreciation for all things vintage with a spirit of conquest and innovation to offer a coveted-catalogue of premium products.

So how was a forgotten brand from the 19th-century revived and transformed into one of the most loved names of today? And what exactly underpins this unprecedented retail concept? Presented by its protagonists, The Beauty of Time Travel looks at the meticulous work carried out by creative entrepreneur Touhami along with his agency Art Recherche Industrie. It dissects the Buly universe from A to Z, looking at it’s appetite for reinventing traditions whilst revealing the stories, tricks, and (almost) all its secrets.

WHAT TO EXPECT
• The definitive look into the process of constructing a successful global brand from the bottom up
• Key insights and tips for branding, retail, product design, and much more
• Beautiful imagery that documents the creative process, the products, packaging, and holistic brand identity

is an internationally renowned designer, creative director, and entrepreneur. Officine Universelle Buly is known globally in the cosmetics world and also for its approach to branding. Touhami continues to head the brand alongside partner Victoire de Taillac.
WHAT A WEDDING!

New Wedding Planning, Ideas, and Inspiration

You’ve fallen in love, got down on one knee, and announced the engagement... but now what? Several components are to be considered when it comes to planning the perfect wedding day. Saying ‘I do’ might feel like a daunting task, but that is the smoothest part. From venue scouting to dress-fittings and navigating the drama of seating charts, the road to wedlock has more layers than a tiered cake. What a Wedding! is the tip-to-top curated guide for tying the knot. From alternative garden weddings to traditional church ceremonies, this title explores the changing nature of weddings, including how to celebrate safely in a post-pandemic world.

Gathering insight on how timeless traditions have forged the way for a more inclusive landscape, What a Wedding! looks at weddings on a global scale presenting a dazzling array of detailed tips and inspiration to help brides and grooms make the most of their big day and beyond.

WHAT TO EXPECT

• Curated guides and helpful advice from professional wedding planners, including organizational tools and checklists
• Inclusive wedding stories showing diverse couples, party sizes, budgets, and cultural influences
• A diverse representation, including LGBTQI+ couples, non-binary pairings, and those aged 65+
What is beautiful, who is beautiful? The New Beauty is a visual journey into the past, present and future of human beautification in a globalized world.

Beauty may lie in the eye of the beholder, but what we consider to be beautiful has changed radically over the past 20 years. Today, originality is celebrated, authenticity is prized, and self-expression is flourishing. This book explores the evolution in our beauty ideals from ancient civilizations to the present moment, when urgent new conversations are rewriting the rules and shaping the future of the industry. From makeup’s role in challenging gender stereotypes, to the links between hairstyling and community building, or rituals and self-care, The New Beauty captures this essential shift in the way we see ourselves and each other.

BIKEPACKING

Exploring the Roads Less Cycled

An uplifting collection of routes, journeys, anecdotes, and tips to explore the country by bicycle.

They say that what matters is the journey and not the destination, and that couldn’t be more accurate when it comes to bicycle touring and bike packing. Taking the roads less travelled, exploring the surroundings at every pedal of the way, and embracing the freedom it offers—long-distance cycling is more than a method of transportation—it’s a vibrant travelling philosophy. Bikepacking is the publication to discover the adventurous spirit of bikepacking. Exploring journeys in different regions around the world, introducing the people and culture around it, and giving you the lowdown of all the tips and tricks, this book presents the insights and inspiration to plan your own expeditions, no matter how experienced (or not) you are. Pack your bag and prep your bike, the journey awaits!

WHAT TO EXPECT
• A title co-edited by the founder of celebrated bikepacking platform Pannier and cyclist extraordinaire, Stefan Amato

Lift yourself into the world of bouldering and teach the body and mind new extremes.

Climbing boulders without using a lot of equipment gives you a close connection with nature and demands discipline and endurance, but also rewards you with the joy of experimenting and a positive approach to failure. In this book, the “natural-born free climber” Bernd Zangerl and his fellow authors and boulderers show you everything you need to know about the fascinating and challenging aspects of this innovative sport—from well-known bouldering areas and famous personalities to competitions and the right training. All the most exciting and beautifully inspiring moments are brought together in this definitive guide to modern bouldering!

BERND ZANGERL is regarded as one of the best boulderers of all-time. Born in 1978 in Tyrol, he was surrounded by mountains and began bouldering at a young age. After great success in alpine climbing, he later turned to bouldering and found his true passion here.
When Ferdinand Porsche could not find a sports car he liked, he decided to build one himself. The rest is history. Jerry Seinfeld collects Porsches, Steve McQueen loved the sports car. “Both a car and a cultural icon, it has earned a fan base that spans from young to old, East to West, connoisseur to enthusiast.”

ULF POSCHARDT

Born in Nuremberg in 1967, Ulf Poschardt is a graduate of philosophy and a prominent German journalist. In his professional past, Poschardt has been chief editor of the German edition of Vanity Fair. In addition to this book dedicated to the Porsche 911, his other publications include DJ Culture.

SPILL THE BEANS

Global Coffee Culture and Recipes

Life doesn’t work without coffee. This book takes the reader on a caffeinated tour that unveils the richness of coffee culture, the history of beans, stories, and recipes from around the world.

Coffee is the world’s cup. Over 2.5 billion are brewed, sipped, and savored on a daily basis. A loyal companion and energetic facilitator of the everyday, coffee has sprouted an entire cafe culture and a booming industry. While the caffeine fix is hard to ignore, this beloved hot drink holds a rich and diverse history that sinks deeper than the bottom of the cup. Penned by expert journalist Lani Kingston, Spill the Beans takes the reader on a journey through Ethiopia, Guatemala, Vietnam, and many other countries in between, exploring the myriad ways in which coffee is produced, traded, and enjoyed.

Hipster baristas may be dreaming up the next seasonal latte at this very moment, but the story of how the humble bean became a global icon is engrained in history. An essential title for armchair travelers, curious foodies, and cafe-hoppers alike, Spill the Beans demonstrates that there’s a vast world of coffee beyond the ubiquitous flat white. This book is an ‘extra hot’ commodity, maybe it is time to sample it?

WHAT TO EXPECT

• A collection of fascinating, lesser-known stories about the culture of coffee and global traditions
• Around 40 exclusive coffee recipes reflecting the variety of coffee styles
• Documentary-style imagery makes this an essential book for coffee aficionados and curious baristas

is a food writer and consultant. She holds Master’s degrees in Food Studies and Education, along with barista and pastry chef qualifications. This is her third book on coffee, and the first to be published by Gestalten.

Be kind to yourself and the environment with this book of tasty and simple vegetable-based recipes to prepare at home.

There’s more to a potato than mash. Discover new adventurous ways to prepare a parsnip or cook a cabbage with this book of more than 800 plant-focused recipes. From boiled beets to roasted radishes, each chapter offers countless methods to use a single vegetable. You’ll be swapping boiled carrots for eggplant fried with mint, garlic, and pine nuts faster than you can say “kale.” Get to know your way around the vegetable patch, and be kind to yourself and the planet in the process.

Eat Your Greens! introduces more than 40 vegetables, explaining when they’re in season, how best to store them, and what ingredients they work well with.
