The cities we currently have are not the ones we need to thrive in years to come, Space10 rethinks urban life for the next generation.

Urban life is humankind’s biggest experiment to date, our cities are constantly evolving and adapting to climate and economy. The cities we have today are not necessarily the ones we need, but big and small innovation is rethinking visions of urbanisation. Together with pioneering think tank SPACE10, we present future orientated design that enhances quality of life and makes our urban spaces more vibrant.

As technology and urban life edge ever closer, The Ideal City explores the ambitious actions and initiatives being taken across the globe to meet tomorrow’s demand in clever, forward-thinking ways. From waste management to housing, the book uncovers what is being discussed at the forefront of urbanism through expert essays and profiles.

WHAT TO EXPECT
- An innovative discussion around better solutions and best practices to improve urban spaces
- A progressive, global view on leading ideas and discussions happening in urbanism
- Capturing research from one of Europe’s leading research and design labs in an engaging and insightful way
- Expert profiles and an introduction to the doers and thinkers of future cities
- First-hand insight from essays written by urbanist thought leaders
- A multi-disciplinary approach that takes ideas from architecture, technology, infrastructure, and sustainability

SPACE10 are a Delhi and Copenhagen-based independent think tank on a mission to enable a better everyday life for people and the planet. Their first book, Future Food Today is a collection of sustainable recipes from the forefront of food trends.
For People with a special interest in food, and more healthy and organic food ut perspiciatis unde omnis iste natus
Impossibly slender houses wedged into narrow plots, spacious homes built into neglected infills, and comfortable homes created in tiny spaces. From tiny houses to high-rises, the best in vertical architecture.

Moving to the suburbs is no longer the answer; instead we are staying inside the city and looking for grand solutions in the smallest of spaces. Slender, slim, and tall structures are soaring in the limited land available, offering an innovative solution to tackle mass movement to cities.

Vertical living is an introduction to the architecture and interior masterminds using skillful, clever design to conquer compact living wherever there is space. As we continue to expect more of our flats and houses, unexpected approaches are necessary to meet demand.

WHAT TO EXPECT

• Discover a global view of architectural styles that challenge perceptions of micro-living, showing the wonders of what can be achieved in confined environments
• Explore the latest methods being adopted in micro-flats, skinny houses, infill architecture, and parasitic architecture
• Through in-depth profiles accompanied by beautiful photography illustrates the optimization of space in our most populous cities
• Helpful tips for residents of small spaces
• A true sense of spectacle: extraordinary homes in the most unexpected places
BEAUTY AND THE EAST

New Chinese Architecture

After two decades of wild experimentation China has found its own unique architectural language that bridges millennia of traditions with a promising future and looks nothing short of amazing.

The transformation of China in the past three decades has been nothing short of spectacular. Now a cultural and economic player on the world stage, its rise has also given air to a new generation of architects and interior designers. China previously looked to the West for architectural references, today they are moulding a new design expression which fuses centuries of local tradition with idealistic design. Beauty and the East presents the homegrown talent shaping this new aesthetic that is bound by the surrounding environment. Adopting new methods and techniques, they are pushing design possibilities and influencing the world. From cultural institutions to cityscapes, explore the tantalizing world of Chinese architecture and get a window into the world of tomorrow.

WHAT TO EXPECT

• Inspiring photography of breathtaking architecture structures across mainland China
• An objective, honest analysis of the most exciting Chinese architects working in China
• A deeper understanding of Chinese culture and design identity through the lens of its architecture

A husband-and-wife team that achieves synchronicity between architectural, interior, furniture, and even graphic design, as architects. Rather than having some sort of foresight or knowing what the future would hold, the young couple was concerned that their children should not lose their grounding in their family’s Chinese roots. Whether intentionally business savvy or not, that decision proved to be fortuitous. In 2008 the SARS epidemic and then decided not to return to the US, where they had begun their careers beside his wife and business partner Rosanna Hu on the couch. They founded Neri&Hu in 2004.

Despite the pleasure-seeking spaces, it’s not all fun and games for this successful Shanghai studio, although the founder clearly has business acumen when it comes to enjoyment. Playful is used so often to describe the more exuberant works of architects and designers that the word is in very danger of becoming a cliché. But then again, when you create a building that is termed “a living work of art” you have something to be proud of. X+Living has drawn much attention both at home and abroad thanks to what seems to be a shrewd understanding of user experience. It is something of a paradox that the projects most demonstrably devoted to user experience, complete professionalism dominates. Creativity. LIFE’S A BEACH
Homes, Retreats and Respite by the Sea

Characteristic cottages, beach bungalows and grand getaways alike, all designed to kick back and enjoy life by the sea.

There’s no two ways about it: life is better by the beach. The salty air, the sound of the waves and, above all, the relaxed way of life. This low-key attitude to living manifests itself in how we decorate our homes by the sea.

Life’s A Beach takes readers into beach homes around the world — from the hills of New Zealand to beaches of Brazil to the remote islands of the Aegean — exploring the many ways to decorate a cozy home by the sea. Handmade touches, natural materials and eclectic interiors all imbue a sense of wellbeing, and are found throughout the homes in Life’s A Beach. From humble little beach cottages to extraordinary modern bungalows, these spaces are designed for respite and relaxation, and for enjoying the beachy surrounds.

WHAT TO EXPECT
• Beautiful photography of eclectic interiors around the world
• The voices of leading designers on how to design for the seaside context
• A look at the different coastal interiors styles, such as Montauk, Mediterranean, tropical and more

Nature and architecture have never been more intertwined. As more of the earth’s surface is swallowed up by the built environment, architects are increasingly up to the task of integrating flora and greenery into their creations. There are many ways to express this: green roofs, living walls, indoor courtyards and entire facades filled with plants. But where these are posed as solutions there are yet more questions. How does a skyscraper uphold the weight of hundreds of trees? How do residents keep moss-covered walls alive? Evergreen Architecture explores this, and much more.

WHAT TO EXPECT
- A survey of some of the most innovative green buildings around the world
- A broad spectrum of residential, institutional, urban, rural, small spaces to tall towers
- Features exploring all angles of this new approach to architecture, as well as the voices of the architects leading the charge
- Beautiful photography as well as diagrams and plans to help the reader understand how each building came together

BEYOND THE WEST
New Global Architecture

Beyond the West inspires a fresh understanding of global contemporary architecture beyond the Western countries.

In the twenty-first century, architects across Asia, Africa, and the Americas are making a name for themselves both locally and globally. Around the world, firms face challenges against a backdrop of rapidly growing cities, ecological demands, emerging economies, and changing societies and climate. Local architects often find strikingly innovative solutions to local requirements, including sustainability, transportation, migration, construction materials, and traditions.

In Mexico, architects work closely with indigenous communities to create modular social housing that can be assembled in one week. In Namibia, a lodge in a tree nest, while in Vietnam, a library and social housing that can be assembled in a plant room and a timber and Corten steel ramp providing access.

Ever wondered what it feels like to inhabit an architectural masterpiece? To reside in a space so special that it stirs the emotions and challenges us to imagine new ways of living? Produced in collaboration with leading design magazine Openhouse, Living In seeks to answer these questions by exploring 30 of the world’s most exceptional homes from the unique perspective of their owners and gatekeepers. From an age-old hacienda buried deep in the Mexican jungle to a mid-century-modern icon soaring high above Beverly Hills, all have, in one form or another, opened their doors to the public in an effort to democratize the experience of occupying extraordinary architecture. Additional musings on the themes of nature, tradition, personality, and community are provided by Fernando Caruncho, Axel Vervoordt, John Pawson, and MORQ, four prominent names driving contemporary conversations around architecture and design.

Take a rare look inside of some of the world’s most extraordinary homes, curated by leading design magazine Openhouse.
The alluring power of timber transcends time and place. A wooden house can be a grand getaway in the countryside, but it can also be a modernist mansion or a row house in a big city. And increasingly, it can be a skyscraper, too. Humans have been building homes from wood for thousands of years, and today, timber is increasingly becoming a viable alternative to steel and concrete.

Amid what some architects are calling the timber revolution, Out of the Woods presents how contemporary architects are working with this fundamental material. The homes in this book celebrate the warm, tactile interiors that can only be achieved through the use of wood, from cheerful plywood-clad apartments to handsome mountain homes. Combining practical information with the voices of architects leading the movement, Out of the Woods explores the ever-enduring appeal of the wooden house.

Restarting Your Business in a Time of Crisis and Transformation

Witty, surprising, refined, and, above all, truly unforgettable. A compendium of the best new visual identities that stand out from the crowd in challenging times.

How can small businesses make huge impacts? If a picture speaks a thousand words, branding is the tool to shine in a sea of thousands of competitors. Brand New Brand presents the best branding for small, traditional businesses from the last years. Collecting the best in class examples, it shows how well-curated, holistic branding can take a butchers, book store, bakery or even a physiotherapist from one of the pile to one in a million. No matter if you’re launching a new venture or giving your business a makeover, creativity is your tool to stand out.

WHAT TO EXPECT

- An expertly curated selection of the best branding cases in the last years from all over the world
- Exclusive texts contextualising and decoding the essential information to understand and learn from every project, written by branding design expert Richard Baird
- Case studies exploring the most relevant ideas currently shaping the field of branding (such as sustainability or diversity)
THE ART OF PROTEST
Political Art and Activism

Famous and local artists and around the globe are commenting on political and raising awareness on issues like authoritarian regimes, sustainability, climate change, diversity and immigration.

Thanks to art’s ability to communicate, manipulate and influence, art has always had a charged relationship with activism and politics. We are living in tumultuous times when democracies are challenged from all sides. Diverse topics are subjects that contemporary artists are covering in order to generate controversy, raise awareness and create empathy.

The Art of Protest will explore the connection between art, politics, and activism today, revealing how, over the past decade, artists have been engaging with political and social issues of all kinds, through different artistic mediums.

WHAT TO EXPECT
• A truly global and representative snapshot of the state of art and activism today
• Profiles of around 100 artists
• Artwork ranging from painting, to sculpture, installations, performance, photography, and digital works
• A series of texts contextualising the work within the current global political and artistic landscape

THE AGE OF COLLAGE 3

Contemporary Collage in Modern Art

Editors: gestalten, Dennis Busch & Francesca Genov
Features: Full color, hardcover, stitch bound, 320 pages, 24 x 30 cm, 8 ⅞ x 11 ⅞ inches

Collage—an art form existing at the intersection of design, commerce, and abstract expression.

Cut, paste, create—while collage was conceived in the early 1900s, it seems to be the perfect form of expression for the twenty-first century, with all its juxtapositions, eclecticism, and strange bedfellows. In our present age of collage, the simple act of mixing together different elements allows us to question our reality and make new worlds. The Age of Collage 3 showcases a new crop of artistic vanguards advancing the medium’s possibilities, piece-by-piece: equipped with a craft knife, paintbrush, stylus, scissors, or tablet, a collage artist’s toolkit is as varied as their creations and this book brings their work back to the paper page. From the poignant and provocative to the comic and curious, The Age of Collage 3 features the creations of more than 60 artists. Packed with visuals and a number of in-depth profiles revealing what drives the hands behind the pieces, this comprehensive volume is a celebration of the enduring power of collage.

The Age of Collage 3 presents work by Adam Pendleton, Amie Dicke, Anthony Zinonos, Collier Schorr, David Noonan, Dennis Busch, Eva Koťátková, Jesse Draxler, Johanna Goodman, Kelly Maker, Kensuke Koike, Larry Achiampong, Lola Dupre, Matthieu Bourel, Pennsy Slinger, Peter Horváth, Sergei Sviatchenko, Weronika Gęsicka, Vinka Shenibare, and many others.

DREAMSCAPES & ARTIFICIAL ARCHITECTURE

Imagined Interior Design in Digital Art

Editors: gestalten
Features: Full color, hardcover, stitch bound, 208 pages, 21 x 26 cm, 8 ⅞ x 10 ⅞ inches

A journey through dreamlike landscapes, bizarre buildings, and whimsical interiors floating between reality and fantasy.

Digital renderings have long served architects and interior designers to help visualize spaces before the building begins. But a new generation of digital artists is taking this craft a step further to create otherworldly scenes that can’t, and won’t, ever be built.

Dreamscapes & Artificial Architecture presents the work of leading creatives from across the globe, exploring the infinite ways to visualize utopian oases and dystopian nightmares. With their roots in spatial design, their ideas present a new creative current defined by the fusion of digital techniques such as computer rendering and 3D art, and an aesthetic that moves between fantasy and reality. Freed from the constraints of the physical world, these dreamscapes expand the possibilities for architecture and interior design.

What is beautiful, who is beautiful? The New Beauty is a visual journey into the past, present and future of human beautification in a globalised world.

We all love beauty but what is beautiful lies in the eye of the beholder as they say. What we consider to be beautiful has rapidly changed over the last 20 years. Originality is celebrated, self-expression is listened to, and earnestness is encouraged. This title examines the evolution in beauty ideals that have led us to the present moment, and the new conversations that are shaping up the future of the industry. From using makeup as a means to challenge gender, to the link between hair-styling and community-building, or rituals as a form of self-care, The New Beauty captures this essential moment of transformation, and it is positioned to appeal to anyone with an interest in feeling well in their own skin.

WHAT TO EXPECT

- An exploration that goes beyond the superficial and presents beauty from historical, scientific and journalistic perspectives
- A contemporary look at the universe of beauty, as told by New York Times wellness and beauty writer Kari Molvar
- A relevant insight for those linked to the beauty industry, which is in a moment of transformation, as concepts such as wellness, feminism and inclusivity become equally important

KARI MOLVAR is the writer of gestalten title Be Well. She is an American beauty and lifestyle journalist who contributes regularly to The New York Times, Vogue and The Wall Street Journal.

Wanderlust should not be limited by time or distance. Whether day-trip or epic vacation, the rewards of traveling with kids can create memories that last a lifetime. Family Adventures shares the stories of intrepid families who hit the road together. The book includes tips for making a trip a success, advice on how to plan a vacation, and advice on how to keep the kids entertained. Whether you’re taking a trip to the mountains, to the beach, or to a new city, you’ll find inspiration and guidance for vacations long and short; creating memories that last a lifetime.

From short sailing trips to longer cruises along coastlines or across the oceans, this book celebrates the nautical way of life. Since the dawn of time, exploring the world by boat has been seen as the pinnacle of freedom. There is no greater adventure than setting sail, at the mercy of the wind, being sprayed by salty water as you voyage from island to island and sea to sea, discovering new landscapes and cultures.

Sailing the Seas will take readers on a series of nautical adventures across the globe, from the coast of the US down to the Caribbean, through classic Mediterranean voyages and on trips in far-flung locations such as Thailand and the French Polynesia. Presenting a fresh, younger side of sailing, this volume reveals the sights, sounds, tastes, and experiences that can be had on board a boat.

With beautiful photos of locations, detailed itineraries, and ‘Captain’s Notes’ filled with useful tips and insights on destinations, Sailing the Seas will inspire novice sailors and ‘old salts’ alike to take to the waves.

EAT YOUR GREENS!
Be kind to yourself and the environment with this book of tasty and simple vegetable-based recipes to prepare at home.

There’s more to a potato than mash. Discover new adventurous ways to prepare a parsnip or cook a cabbage with this book of more than 800 plant-focused recipes. From boiled beets to roasted radishes, each chapter offers countless methods to use a single vegetable. You’ll be swapping boiled carrots for eggplant fried with mint, garlic, and pine nuts faster than you can say “kale.” Get to know your way around the vegetable patch, and be kind to yourself and the planet in the process.

Eat Your Greens! introduces more than 40 vegetables, explaining when they’re in season, how best to store them, and what ingredients they work well with.

worked as a chef before starting Ekolådan, Sweden’s top vegetable-delivery-box company. Today, she is a writer who is passionate about helping people understand how food can be produced in a sustainable way.

INGELE PERSSON
is a chef and restaurateur who writes recipes for Ekolådan.

“Seasonality, conservation and the combination of flavors will soon hold no more secrets for you.” DIM DAM DOM

“The book is exactly what the title promises. No complicated recipes.” DE MORGEN

“the Bible of vegetables” (translated from Italian) ELLE
Stylish travel on a budget? It’s possible: today’s best hostels are stylish, affordable and more fun and open-minded to boot. This is what The Grand Hostels is all about.

MONOCLE TRAVEL GUIDE SERIES
Features: Full color, softcover, interviews, and insightful tips, The Entrepreneur’s Handbook aims to guide, empower, and inspire people to transform their business ideas into reality.

Startup Guide now has over 30 books featuring cities and regions across Europe, the Middle East, Asia, Africa and the US. Each guide has essential information about the local ecosystem, as well as insights, how-to’s, inspirational case studies, and tips from entrepreneurs and experts.

The books are split into seven main sections:

- Startups: Innovative businesses, usually under three-years old, challenging the status quo.
- Programs: Ambitious accelerator and incubator programs which help startups refine their product and make connections.
- Spaces: Popular coworking hubs (both new and established) where entrepreneurs can grow.
- Experts: Established individuals and organizations with valuable advice and insight for young businesses.
- Founders: In-depth Q&As with seasoned entrepreneurs who have founded companies in the past.
- Schools: Well-known schools, colleges, and educational programs specifically tailored to entrepreneurs.
- Investors: Firms and organizations that support entrepreneurs, including what they look for in startups.
