

ST KILDA

Mums find warmth for winter kids

WINTER is around the corner, but some families are struggling to pay for warm clothes.

So the St Kilda Mums charity have launched their Coats for Kids Appeal, to source 1000 kids' coats.

Chief executive Jess Macpherson said many families could not afford new clothes to keep their babies and children warm. The volunteer network has launched the Coats for Kids campaign to meet this area of need.

"We would particularly love coats, but will gladly accept all warm clothing; hats, gumboots, gloves, scarves," Ms Macpherson said.

The charity are also close to reaching their target 400 coats for its 2014 Coats for Tots campaign.

Email donate@stkilda-mums.org

St Kilda Mums volunteers' children, Marlo, Grace, and Alice, with donated coats at the charity's warehouse.