

PURPLE EGG SUCKING LEACH

TIED BY: Lorie Hagen

This fly has been around for quite a while. The original started out as black. The purple version has proven to be just as successful. This pattern is "standard issue" for any angler in Alaska and Canada. It works great for Trout, Steelhead, Dolly Varden, Silver and King Salmon

MATERIALS NEEDED:

- HOOK | 710 Streamer Hook | Size 2
- WEIGHT | Larva Lace Lead
- TAIL | Larva Lace Shimmer | Purple
- BODY | Larva Lace Salmo Supreme | Purple Peril
- EGG | Larva Lace Phat Yarn | Hot Pink
- THREAD | Danville's Flymaster Plus | 210 Denier Black
- SOFT BODY | Thin
- WISE | Hagen's Deluxe Vice
- Dubbing Tool

The material used to recreate this can be found at: www.unexcelledfishing.com

« Step 1

Lay a nice bed of thread on the hook. This helps keep the lead in place. Next wrap your lead onto the hook shank from directly above the point of the hook to a spot three eye-widths behind the eye of the hook. Wrap with your thread to cover the lead leaving thread at the tail position.

« Step 2

Tie in a shank-length piece of purple shimmer for the tail.

« Step 3

Form a dubbing loop. Fill with Purple Peril Salmo and twist. Start wrapping the dubbing forward to form the body. Stopping at the front of the lead, leaving room for the egg yarn head.

« Step 4

Tie in the Hot Pink Phat Yarn. Bring your thread forward to the hook eye. Wrap the Phat yarn around the hook to form a nice egg. Tie off and whip finish. Apply soft body and get ready to catch some nice fish.
