Welcome to

Wild Flower Essence made with love by Naughty Naturopath Mum!

Hi. I'm Alisha, the creator and founder of NNM and creator of Wild Flower Essence. I am truly grateful that you are wanting to know more about my diverse and extensive flower essence range. We are here to help, so if you need anything please email team@naughtynaturopathmum.com.au - Enjoy!

01

"I've been a Naturopath for over 20 years and understand that everyone's health journey is very different. We can encourage people to eat real food, move their body more and give tailored advice and supplements depending on their needs, but we also need to address their emotional health.

02

Without support in this area, the physical body will just not heal. A great start to emotional healing and balance is the subtle yet effective power of energy or emotional shifts thanks to flower essence remedies. I've done the hard work for you and have ready made flower essence blends for everyone.

03

After working with flower essences for 20 years and exclusively for the last 10 years, I know what's needed out there today. The popularity of the Naughty Naturopath Mum's Wild Flower Essences has been overwhelming since their conception and you can rest assured that many of your patients or customers will have heard of them and trust the brand already.

04

The essences help people so much with better compliance on their healing journey as well as a better state of mind. Suitable for children and adults, give your customers or patients a head start on their healing journey with the help of Naughty Naturopath Mum's Wild Flower Essence blends ready for you to stock in your store or clinic."
