Vegetable-tanned leather is the Artisan tradition of transforming raw hides into a resilient material that has proven to stand the test of time. It is a tradition passed on through centuries with each generation creating a unique flare. This traditional method absorbs every trace of life as each inch of the leather has its own distinctive characteristic along with brilliant shades that become more intense with the passing of time.

Inspired by the uniqueness of the vegetable-tanned leather the range is designed to encapsulate the personal expression of naturalness and sophistication while still staying faithful to an energetic and vibrant lifestyle. With belts ranging from color to texture, buckle to stitching, each style has its own exclusive and personal touch as it brings fashion to life.

The marriage of both the texture of the leather and the dashing design will feed you with a quality and style that will not easily be missed.
