Italy is the gem known as the birthplace of the Western civilisation, it is a cultural superpower that is famous for more than just art and style. Therefore there is no better place for Jekyll and Hide's unique and timeless designs to be crafted as they come to life.

Through the mixture of antique recipes and state of the art technology a pure vegetable-tanned leather is created. Allowing each design to differ in texture as well as in the interpretation of material in both shape and design. Original vegetable-tanned leather is the textbook material to compliment a stylistic lifestyle by adding value to fashion. Pure Authenticity.

Jekyll and Hide's range of footwear is carefully designed in the Mother City of Cape Town to create the perfect combination of form, function and fashion. The designs are demanding in quality and class to walk with you in every step you take.
