

Abdominal Binder with Moisture Control

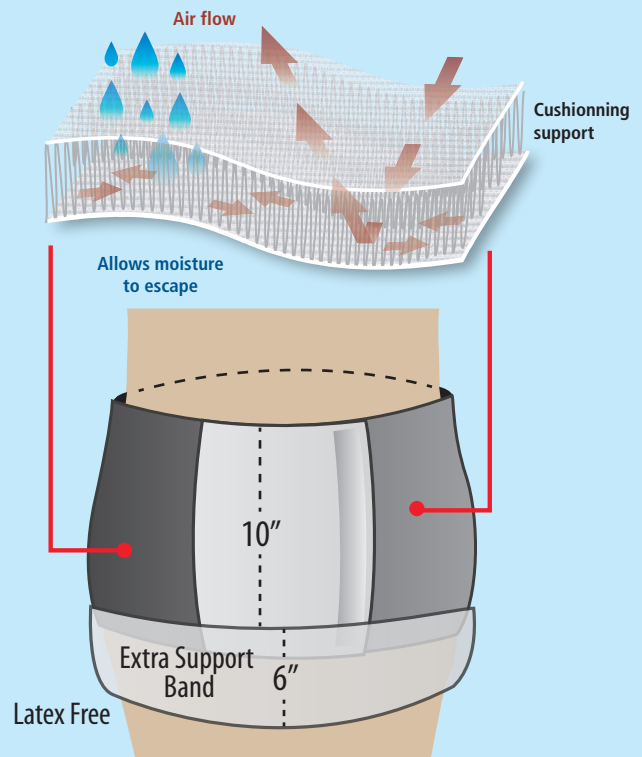

The effective moisture & pressure reduction solution.

Ventopedic – A Solution to Skin Integrity Maintenance

The entire Ventopedic product line is built around an effective moisture transport technology system aimed at maintaining skin integrity on a variety of body parts. Structured around fabric functionality, the Ventopedic products are designed to effectively draw moisture away from the skin while the 3 dimensional interior found in every product controls and /or eliminates any moisture absorption. The continuous airflow ventilation inside each product allows it to keep dry even in the highest levels of humidity.

A closer look inside Ventopedic products

The NEW Ventopedic Abdominal Binder is available in 4 different size options and is specifically designed to maximize compression around the abdomen while effectively controlling the level of humidity. The 3- dimensional structure found inside the New Ventopedic Abdominal Binder allows for continuous air circulation inside the product which keeps the skin at a regulated temperature thereby maintaining skin integrity.
