Dawn Rouse

Dawn Rouse is a Durban-based photographer who works in multiple fields. With published photos in local and national publications, Dawn's commercial work spans advertising, events, portraiture and pet shoots.

Dawn can be found out and about around Durban, camera at the ready, collecting images of well known landmarks, people at work and play, or artifacts for still life studies.

Her new passion is of botanical studies of indigenous plants and flowers which are printed on archival paper. They can be printed to any size, in colour, black and white or sepia, on paper, or can be printed on to canvas.
