

Proudly Presenting Our Elite Trainer: Will Davis II

I was taught at a very early stage in my riding career that it's the rider's responsibility to find the elusive sweet spot in every saddle one has the privilege to sit in. In my 40 plus years of riding, I have struggled, fought to find, and keep that elusive sweet spot. What I know today, is that a properly fitted saddle should fit like one's favorite pair of jeans. If you've ever worn jeans that were a little too tight, too loose, a bit low, crept up or bunched up, you know what I'm talkin' about. Like your favorite pair of jeans, we each have our own style and brand of saddle that fits just right. But I am here to tell you, I find nothing fits more comfortably gives me a sense of stability, security and confidence when sitting atop a horse better than Trilogy saddles.

Debbie Witty has developed something quite remarkable and through her connections has brought to the market something quite revolutionary. My horses all move Freer than they ever have before through their shoulders, over their backs and with more willingness to go forward to self-carriage than I honestly thought possible from some of them. I'm very pleased with the continued support of Sally Dietrich as Trilogy's Michigan Fitting Consultant. Sally has a keen eye and willingness to listen to me and my horses always varying needs. For those of you who are riding in something that doesn't feel like your favorite pair of jeans, check out what I consider the best fitting quality saddles on the market.

-Will Davis II

