Creations beyond imagination

"A must read story"

On a lovely evening of the early 1960's in the romantic black & white city of Mumbai, the sky was busy sketching beautiful motifs on its vast canvas that would put even the Taj to shame. The stage was set for inspiring the fresh minds that were ready to play the challenge of creation.

In the midst of all this excitement, in the textile crucible of South Mumbai, the strong & sharp Mr. Needle met the beauty with flowing grace of Ms. Thread, infatuated by her beauty, just as she was smitten by his mesmerizing charm and together they set out to challenge the sky at it's glorious art.

And then, as the tale goes, they stepped & swirled together on the fabric stage, thus, beginning the poetic story of HAKOBA – with pinhole precision they created the first

"stitch beyond imagination"
